Dear Council Members:

I just wanted to share a few pictures from the last few weeks. I am currently walking my "grand" dog for my daughter who is working at our Embassy in Lima Peru and thought that Ross is a good place to retire to.

I have noticed that the youth of Ross or Kentfield are enjoying riding on the grass of Ross Common and doing "wheelies" or other expressions of youthful exuberance and freedom. I think that bikes might also be causing ruts that could result in people twisting their ankles.

I know that if I rode my 80 pound e-bike on the grass that adding in my body weight that I might cause some damage when the turf is soft. However, according to the signs I just get a "warning" not much of a deterrent.

Thanks for listening/reading this and the dogs 🐕 might not be the sole issue of the problem at the Common.

Happy Holidays
Mike
